

What Is The Difference?

When it comes to payments for field service management software, there are two types – integrated and non-integrated.

A non-integrated payment solution does not talk to your field service management software, but could speak to your accounting software. Regardless, your field service management and accounting software will most likely not match and require manual import and reconciliation.

NON-INTEGRATED

QuickBooks and Field Service Management Software data won't match unless manually imported

An integrated payment solution, on the other hand, talks directly to your field service management software and is directly linked to your accounting software, which means you have accurate visibility into your payments and financials across the board.

INTEGRATED

Why Does It Matter To You?

FieldEdge Payments

POWERED BY  CLEARENT™

- All your payments are correctly linked to your invoices in FieldEdge and QuickBooks with full visibility
- Hours saved in office with automatic and accurate reporting and reconciliation
- Technicians save time completing all work and payments within the FieldEdge app
- Next day funding allows you to fund payroll and inventory purchases without worry

Non-Integrated Payments

- Payments are not directly linked to an invoice in your field service management software causing discrepancies
- Manual and inaccurate reconciliation and reporting in the office
- Technicians lose time switching back and forth between apps to collect payment in the field
- Errors in the office and field lead to overall lost revenue

Payment Processors like Square may seem like an integrated payments solution but in reality, Square is not talking directly to your field service management software, which means your money is worth less due to the time spent managing it

Why FieldEdge Payments?

FieldEdge offers built-in payment processing powered by Clearent to simplify payments. Our integrated solution ensures accuracy and ease of mind knowing money isn't slipping through the cracks. Unlike non-integrated payment solutions, FieldEdge Payments speaks directly with FieldEdge so your office staff never has to record payments in multiple systems again.

FieldEdge Payments is also paired with the only real-time QuickBooks integration in the industry, which means there is never a doubt your financials are always up-to-date. (Ask your representative for more information on how the QuickBooks integration can affect the accuracy of your financials.)
